District Superintendent's Report

This has been another school year of improved student achievement and academic excellence. Kershaw County School District (KCS D) averages were higher than the state averages in 16 of the 24 possible 2008 PACT categories. The district's average SAT score was the 17th best in the state, making it 17 points above the state average. This was the fourth straight year that Kershaw County seniors improved their average composite score on the ACT college entrance exam. Five schools—ATEC, Camden High, Lugoff-Elgin High, Lugoff-Elgin Middle, and North Central High—were recognized by the State Board of Education in the Palmetto Gold and Silver program for high levels of academic achievement and high rates of student academic improvement, while North Central High was also recognized for reducing the achievement gap for at least one historically underachieving student group.

Twenty-two more Kershaw County teachers earned National Board certification (the highest credential available in the teaching profession). This brings the total number of district teachers who are National Board certified to 130, or 17 percent of the teaching staff, compared to only 13 percent statewide who have the certification.

Under the i-CAN program, all of the district's high school students received laptops to use throughout their high school careers. The first set of KCS D graduates who had laptops for their entire high school careers had consecutive gains for four years in student achievement data for grade point average, percent of credits passed, and student grades from 2005-2008. In addition, a new K-8 technology initiative supplied interactive whiteboards for every classroom and laptops on carts for student use. All KCS D teachers received laptops and staff development in computer-based instruction.

Seven construction projects from Phase One of the $102.2 million facilities equalization program were completed on or ahead of schedule. The school district is using cost savings from these projects to build a new Jackson School and address facility needs due to an increased student population in the West Wateree area.

The district's performance has received statewide and national recognition at all levels. Kershaw County was one of the first in the state to receive district-wide SACS CASI accreditation. Lugoff-Elgin Middle was named a Carolina First Palmetto's Finest Award recipient, and Camden High was named a program finalist. Lugoff Elementary received the Blue Ribbon Lighthouse Award. Four schools—ATEC, North Central Middle, Pine Tree Hill Elementary, and Wateree Elementary—were named Red Carpet Schools, bringing the total number of Kershaw County schools who currently hold this honor up to 14. Camden High's Academic Booster Club was one of four civic organizations to be recognized by the State Board of Education for outstanding contributions to South Carolina's public education system. Baron DeKalb Elementary School's breakfast program received a Best Practice Award from the USDA for increasing its student participation in the breakfast program, while Doby's Mill Elementary received the Palmetto Five-Star Cafeteria Award from the South Carolina School Food Service Purchasing Alliance.
